

Black Field Cricket

Teleogryllus commodus

Black Field Cricket Teleogryllus commodus

Range: Australia and New Zealand

Habitat: urban areas, forests and heath

Diet: decaying plant material and insect remains

Ecological Role: Scavenger

Lifespan: 2-3 months

Black CricketFun Facts!Teleogryllus commodus*

It feeds at night!

Its song also occurs at night!

Its song is produced when a male rubs his wings together!!

Its lifecycle is a few months but during this time the female lays about 200 eggs.