Course Description

Insects are a daily fact of life, exerting major influence on human affairs over the course of history. The course analyzes the extensive and sometimes uncomfortable relationships between insects and humans, including historical roots of insect/human interactions, impact of insects on development of scientific thought, use of insects as experimental models in drug design and military applications.

General Education Goals and Expected Learning Outcomes (ELO)

This course fulfills the General Education (GE) rationale for the GE Foundations: Natural Sciences category. ENTMLGY 2101 fulfills Natural Sciences Goals 1 and 2 and Expected Learning Outcome 1.1, 1.2, 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3.

When this 3-credit ENTMLGY 2101 lecture is taken in combination with the 1-credit ENTMLGY 2102 laboratory, together these 4-credits (i.e., 3-credit lecture + 1-credit laboratory) fulfill ALL Goals (i.e., Goals 1 and 2) and ALL Expected Learning Outcomes (i.e., ELOs 1.1, 1.2, 1.3, 2.1, 2.2, 2.3) for the Foundations, Natural Science GE category.

GE Goal 1: Successful students will engage in theoretical and empirical study within the natural sciences, gaining an appreciation of the modern principles, theories, methods, and modes of inquiry used generally across the natural sciences.

Expected Learning Outcome 1.1: Successful students are able to explain basic facts, principles, theories and methods of modern natural sciences; describe and analyze the process of scientific inquiry.

Expected Learning Outcome 1.2: Successful students are able to identify how key events in the development of science contribute to the ongoing and changing nature of scientific knowledge and methods.

Expected Learning Outcome 1.3: Successful students are able to employ the processes of science through exploration, discovery, and collaboration to interact directly with the natural world when feasible, using appropriate tools, models, and analysis of data.

GE goal 2: Successful students will discern the relationship between the theoretical and applied sciences, while appreciating the implications of scientific discoveries and the potential impacts of science and technology.

Expected Learning Outcome 2.1: Successful students are able to analyze the interdependence and potential impacts of scientific and technological developments

Expected Learning Outcome 2.2: Successful students are able to evaluate social and ethical implications of natural scientific discoveries

Expected Learning Outcome 2.3: Successful students are able to critically evaluate and responsibly use information from the natural sciences

This course fulfills goals 1 and 2, and learning outcomes associated with the goals of the foundations of the Natural Science GE through a variety of activities such as:

Lectures, readings and outside source material to allow students to receive new information in a variety of modalities.

Exploratory exercises investigating concepts in taxonomy and DNA, using insect biology to interpret art, issues of misinformation in insect related diseases and how insects provide medicinal compounds.

Student discussions focusing on the similarities and differences of insect and human anatomy, annotations to Kafka's Metamorphosis, designing and critiquing experimental design, and reflecting on pollinator health and their impact to humans.

Questions on exams designed to assess student progress on learning objectives.

Other student generated content in this course (reading assignments, reflection questions, weekly quiz questions) are designed to inform the instructor during the semester on student progress towards the learning outcomes.

Any optional bonus material will supplement student understanding, but is not designed to fulfill learning objectives.

Goals and ELOs for Legacy GE requirements for Natural Sciences/Biological Sciences (For students enrolled before August 2022). As part of the life sciences category of the General Education curriculum, this course is designed to prepare students to be able to do the following:

1. Understand the basic facts, principles, theories and methods of modern science.
2. Understand key events in the development of science and recognize that science is an evolving body of knowledge.
3. Describe the inter-dependence of scientific and technological developments.
4. Recognize social and philosophical implications of scientific discoveries and understand the potential of science and technology to address problems of the contemporary world.

This course fulfills the above expected learning outcomes through the following course specific learning outcomes.

Course Specific Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to (with reference to the related general education learning objectives (ELO) above):

- Explain how insects differ from other arthropod and invertebrate taxa (ELO 1.1).
- Compare and contrast human and insect respiratory, endocrine, digestive, circulatory and reproductive systems (ELO 1.1).
- Interpret insect behaviors within their biological contexts (ELO 1.1).
- Distinguish between scientific, religious, political and popular beliefs (ELO 2.3).
- Integrate biological information and historical perspectives to evaluate the accuracy of insect representations in art, literature and religious texts (ELO 2.3).

- Articulate the positive and negative impacts that insects have had on human and veterinary medicine and well-being (ELO 2.2).
- Predict the best methods for managing insect pests in different historical contexts (ELO 1.2).
- Examine the role that insects have played in the fields of evolutionary biology, molecular genetics, human medicine, and military operations (ELO 1.1, 2.1).
- Discuss roles played by insects in food webs and as biological control agents (ELO 2.1)

How this course works

Mode of delivery: This course is 100% online. There are no required sessions when you must be logged in to Carmen at a scheduled time.

Pace of online activities: This course is divided into weekly modules that are released one week ahead of time. Students are expected to keep pace with weekly deadlines but may schedule their efforts freely within that time frame. Each module contains a mixture of ways to interact with the subject information. These modules will generally include separate sections that contain:

- Weekly overview of expected work
- Recorded lecture(s)
- Reading Assignment(s)
- Link(s) to access and engage with an outside source
- Link to a bi-weekly discussion or other collaborative assignment
- Weekly Quiz
- Reflection Question

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a [3] credit-hour course. According to Ohio State bylaws on instruction (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around [3] hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to [6] hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, studying for tests, discussions with classmates for example) to receive a grade of [C] average.

Attendance and participation requirements: Research shows regular participation is one of the highest predictors of success. With that in mind, I have the following expectations for everyone's participation:

Participating in online content (lectures/module pages): at least once per week

You are expected to log in to the course in Carmen every week. During most weeks you will probably log in many times. If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.

Zoom meetings and office hours: optional

All live, scheduled events for the course, including my office hours, are optional.

Participating in discussion forums: two or more times per week

As part of your participation, approximately every three weeks you can expect to post at least three times as part of our substantive class discussion on the week's topics. This discussion may take place via Carmen discussion or an alternate collaborative way as indicated by your instructor. Most discussions will have two due dates, one for a first post and one for any follow up replies.

Course Materials, Fees and Technologies

Required Materials and/or Technologies

“Insects in Human Affairs” written by Drs. Susan Fisher, Wendy Klooster and Megan Meuti. This book is available in an interactive format and is provided to you FOR FREE on the Carmen course website. This book will be provided as a PDF and most chapters will be available via online text as well.

Note about the online text: The textbook includes questions for you to answer to check your understanding of the material presented (usually at the end of each section). These questions are NOT graded. The “points” or stars you earn by answering the questions are just acknowledgement that you answered correctly.

All other reading assignments will be posted to the Carmen course website

Descriptions of Major Course Assignments

Class Intro Materials

Description: Each student will be required to complete two tasks at the beginning of the course: take a short quiz on both the syllabus material, and participate in a brief group discussion. These assignments are designed to measure your initial engagement in the course and to become familiar with the discussion functions of the course.

Academic integrity and collaboration: These quizzes are open-book and untimed. Students should work on their own for the syllabus quiz but may collaborate on discussion parameters.

Weekly Quizzes:

Description: Each week, students will be assigned a quiz via Carmen. These weekly quizzes will evaluate student understanding of the lecture material, the reading assignments, and the utilization of outside sources.

Academic integrity and collaboration: These quizzes are open book and open note. However, they will be timed, and this time limit will require that students prepare in advance to take the quiz. Students must not work with other students when taking the quiz. The two lowest quiz grades will be dropped.

Discussion Participation

Description: Students will be placed into small discussion groups. Four times during the semester you will be given a prompt by the instructor and expected to interact meaningfully with other students in your group, either through Carmen discussion group or an alternate method as specified by your instructor. Guidelines for meaningful interaction will be given generally in the form of an example post for each discussion assignment.

Academic integrity and collaboration: When participating in a discussion, students should abide by the parameters established. Students are allowed to discuss topics with others; however, students should post original ideas when indicated. Students must not post material copied from other sources. If students are expressing ideas gathered from additional sources, they should accurately cite this work.

Exploratory Exercises

Description: Students will engage with class material by completing small projects relevant to the course material. This material will be assigned four times during the semester and can include more creative and in-depth expressions of student learning.

Academic integrity and collaboration: Students should not discuss these assignments with other students. Students must turn in their own original work.

Reading Worksheets

Description: As part of modules, students will be expected to complete a reading assignment from the text. The material in this reading assignment will not be delivered in an alternate way (in lectures, etc.) and will be tested in weekly quizzes and class exams.

To emphasize the importance of good note taking for this material, students will be given a partial note outline sheet for each of the reading assignments. Students will submit a copy of these notes at the end of each unit. The notes will be graded only on completeness and effort and the instructors will use this opportunity to correct student errors before exams.

Academic integrity and collaboration: Students may work together in filling out and devising notes. Each student must turn in their own copy of the work and direct copies (the same assignments turned in for multiple students is not allowed).

Reflection Questions

Description: Your instructor will ask brief, 1-point questions of you through an assigned Carmen quiz. Students gain full points for these questions simply by answering, there is no right or wrong answer. These questions will be assigned only for 10 of the 14 weeks. Full credit will be given if a student answers the question, regardless of the response.

Academic integrity and collaboration: These questions are meant to assess student opinions and perceptions, and to allow your instructor to fine tune delivered material during the semester. You are not prohibited to discuss your answers or the questions with fellow students, but your answer should be indicative of your own feelings and viewpoints.

Exams (Midterm and Final)

Description: Students will be evaluated on their learning at both the midterm and final periods of the class. These exams will include portions of multiple choice and short answer questions, as well as long answer questions designed to illustrate the student's understanding of the concepts. The midterm (given during Week 7) will cover concepts from Weeks 1-6 while the Final Exam will cover concepts from Weeks 8-14, with the exception of one cumulative essay question.

Academic integrity and collaboration: These exams are open note and done at home. Multiple choice and short answer portions will be timed and administered via a Carmen Quiz.

Long answers will be done at home and untimed. Long answers will be submitted via an additional Carmen Assignment. Hence, each exam will have two submissions, the timed Carmen Quiz (part 1) and the untimed Carmen Assignment (part 2) Students must not work with others.

Extra Credit

Discussions: Students will have the opportunity to participate in two of three additional discussions. Participation requirements in these discussions will be given by the instructor at the beginning of class via Carmen module page. Student can earn up to 10 extra points for participating in each extra credit discussion, with a maximum of 20 extra credit points total. These discussions are indicated on the course schedule.

Late Assignments

Please refer to Carmen for specific due dates for each assignment. Due dates are set to help you stay on pace and to allow timely feedback that will help you complete subsequent assignments. Late assignments are subject to a 10% reduction of points per 24-hour period. Quizzes and exams cannot be taken after the instructor releases the answers to the students. If you are unable to turn in an assignment due to an excused absence, please alert the instructor via email as soon as possible and the instructor will discuss a modified due date with you when you submit your excused absence reason.

Instructor Feedback and Response Time

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course. Remember that you can call 614-688-4357 \(HELP\) at any time if you have a technical problem.

Discussion and Communication Guidelines

Each discussion group will set the parameters by which they agree to communicate. However, these are my general expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Excessive spelling and grammar errors may result in a reduction in your discussion grades. A more conversational tone is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: This class may discuss sensitive topics. Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online. I will provide specific guidance for discussions on controversial or personal topics. Abide by your agree upon group discussion rules.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Academic integrity policy

See descriptions of course assignments for integrity expectations for specific assignments. Consult your instructor if you have a question about expectations.

Ohio State's academic integrity policy

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the university's Code of Student Conduct (studentconduct.osu.edu), and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the university's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the university or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the university's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

Safe and Healthy Buckeyes

Health and safety requirements: All students, faculty and staff are required to comply with and stay up to date on all university safety and health guidance (<https://safeandhealthy.osu.edu>). Non-compliance will result in a warning first, and disciplinary actions will be taken for repeated offenses.

Copyright for instructional materials

The materials used in connection with this course may be subject to copyright protection and are only for the use of students officially enrolled in the course for the educational purposes associated with the course. Copyright law must be considered before copying, retaining, or disseminating materials outside of the course.

Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life Counseling and Consultation Services (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling (614) 292- 5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at (614) 292-5766 and 24-hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Suicide Prevention Hotline at 1-(800)-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org

For students in CFAES, David Wirt, wirt.9@osu.edu, is the CFAES embedded mental health counselor. He is available for new consultations and to establish routine care. To schedule with David, please call 614-292-5766. Students should mention their affiliation with CFAES when setting up a phone screening.
